DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed July 11, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant appears to be arguing that the independent claims require that combinational calculations are carried out with only the hoppers of the second group, not both the first and second groups. However, the examiner cannot find the word "only" anywhere in the independent claims, and the applicant did not seem to point to any specific claim language that unambiguously states that only the hoppers of the second group are being selected by the combinational calculating means. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-5, 7, 8, 12-17, 19, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Douglas et al (U.S. # 4,813,503). Douglas et al disclose the claimed invention including a plurality of hoppers which are divided into a first group (26) and a second group (38), a selection means (18), a memory means for dividing the hoppers into first and second groups (See column 4, lines 12-53 – note that the controller 18 is reprogram-able to accommodate more secondary weigh hoppers which implies a memory to store the program), a selection means for switching between first and second modes (Col. 5, lines 1-13), a means for subtracting the weight of the first group of hoppers from the total weight (Col. 3, lines 7-12), and a way of switching the secondary hopper between a continuous discharge mode and another discharge mode (Col. 4, lines 22-28).

4. Claims 1-3 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mitsuru et al (JP H05-079890). The "injection hopper 2a" and the "injection hopper 2b" feed into two sets of measurement hoppers (7) thus forming two groups of hoppers. Control section (20) which is the "selection means", is divided into two combinational processing sections (21a, 21b), the "selection means", each of which contains a CPU with its own "memory" storage unit for storing the result of the combinational weighing operation of its group of hoppers (see "Example" section, [0015])

5. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mikami et al (U.S. # 4,844,190). See abstract.

6. Claims 1-3, 12, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mosher (U.S. # 4,678,046). See abstract, column 2, lines 3-6, and column 4, line 23 to col. 5, line 54.

7. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pringle et al (GB # 2,147,111 A). See abstract.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Douglas et al (U.S. # 4,813,503) in view of Konishi et al (U.S. # 5,753,867). As discussed supra, Douglas et al disclose the claimed invention except for the continuous discharge mode. However, Konishi et al teach that it is known to set a combinational weighing machine in a continuous discharge mode to facilitate cleaning (Column 1, lines 39-55). It would have been obvious to program the device of Douglas et al to include a continuous discharge mode as is common in the art to facilitate cleaning.

Conclusion

10. Claims 6, 9, and 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

11. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

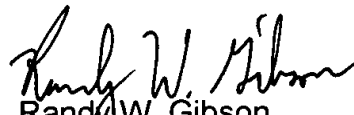

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
